HERE FOR YOU

People who have served in the RAF are trained to be self-reliant. They don't want to make a fuss and they don't want to be a burden. So all too often, when life gets tough, they suffer in silence.

We don't believe anyone who has served their country should have to struggle through life.

We're the RAF Benevolent Fund, and we're here to support people who are serving – or have served – and their families, when they need it most.

From counselling and financial support to adapting homes or replacing boilers, from the big challenges to the small changes, we can help people live with the dignity and independence they deserve.

For over 100 years, we've been the RAF's most devoted friend, supporting the whole of the RAF Family – from the oldest veteran to the youngest child.

Together, we'll continue to be here for as long as they need us.

The RAF Benevolent Fund is very pleased to be the Charity Partner for the Scottish International Ayr Show. This partnership has already enabled us to support more RAF veterans in need in Ayrshire and the West of Scotland who would not previously know about us or what we could do for them.
